2024 Zinfandel, Paso Robles, bottled 12/25

Despite delayed budbreak, sustained summer heat quickly ripened the grapes for a late August harvest. Natural yeast fermentations completed within seven days. After pressing, the wine began malolactic in tank but was then sent to barrel to finish. Aging in twenty percent new American oak adds spice to the abundant fruit. Sensuous and immediately approachable, this classic Paso Robles Zinfandel can be enjoyed over the next six to seven years. JO (10/25)

Ingredients: Hand-harvested grapes; indigenous yeasts; naturally occurring malolactic bacteria; oak from barrel aging; minimum effective SO_2.
